Rose Douglas Grants

Please read the information about grants from the Rose Douglas Trust on our website before proceeding with this grant application.

For purposes of these grants, the Four Way Foundation defines “intellectual disability” as follows:

Grants must be for the primary benefit of residents of Josephine County who have an “intellectual disability” defined as follows: significantly sub-average general intellectual functioning defined as intelligence quotients (IQ's) under 70 as measured by a qualified professional and existing concurrently with significant impairment in adaptive behavior that are manifested during the developmental period, prior to 18 years of age. Individuals of borderline intelligence, IQ's 70-75, may be considered to have intellectual disability if there is also significant impairment of adaptive behavior as diagnosed and measured by a qualified professional.

Please refer to the General Grants requirements when applying for a grant under the Rose Douglas Fund, but also please include in the cover letter:

- An explanation of how the services you offer with these funds will benefit the intellectually disabled population.
- How the need for this project or program was determined.
- The degree of community support for this project or program.
- How many intellectually disabled individuals your project will serve.
- How the project's progress will be monitored and the results evaluated.
